

Plastics

Parison control valves for blow moulding and injection moulding. Dynamic and tensile testing of plastic materials.

The world of plastic materials and components is vast. Just a few items being tested or produced using Star Hydraulic servo valves include coat hangers, plastic bottles and boxes, and water hoses. They are also used with a Parison controller to adjust the thickness required to control bottle dimensions while moulding.

